 Bowling Green, Ohio

The University . . .

Bowling Green State University is an integral part of the system of higher education maintained by the State of Ohio. It is governed by a Board of Trustees appointed by the Governor and is supported almost entirely by legislative appropriations.

A 1910 General Assembly act authorized an appointed commission to seek a site in northwestern Ohio for a new normal school. Bowling Green was selected and trustees were appointed in 1911 with the first president elected in 1912.

The college known as Bowling Green Normal College opened in temporary quarters in September 1914, and one year later moved into two new buildings on the present campus.

In 1929 the General Assembly changed the name to Bowling Green State College. The present name was authorized by the 1935 Assembly.

The university is composed of four main divisions: College of Education, College of Liberal Arts, College of Business Administration and the Graduate School. Courses are offered in forty-three different departments, and the school is recognized by most accrediting agencies.

The university is located on a tract of 240 acres in the northeastern part of Bowling Green. Forty-two campus buildings are available this year. A new science building, a new powerhouse and two men's dormitories are now under construction. The complete plant is evaluated at over $4,000,000.

The city of Bowling Green with a population of 7,800 is located 25 miles south of Toledo at the intersection of U.S. routes 25 and 6. The New York Central railroad, a branch of the Baltimore and Ohio and Greyhound bus lines serve the city.

The university is co-educational with a 1949 spring enrollment of 4,435. The breakdown shows 2,801 were men and 1,634 women. Veterans in school total 1,300. The highest pre-war enrollment was 1,601.

The Coach . . .

Robert H. (Bob) Whittaker is one of Ohio's most successful football coaches both as a scholastic and collegiate mentor.

Whittaker is beginning his twenty-first year as a coach with the start of the 1949 season. Twenty of these years he has served as a head coach, only in his first year in the profession did he work as an assistant.

Coming out of college in 1929, Bob signed to aid Jim Nicholson in football and track at Sandusky, Ohio high school. Nicholson left the next year for University of Toledo and the young Miami star took over and started his climb up football's ladder of success by quickly raising the Blue Streaks to a gridiron power.

From 1932 to 1936 the Streaks won 38 consecutive games—five more than amassed at Massillon by the popular Paul Brown. The 1931, 1933, 1934, 1935 and 1938 teams were undefeated. He developed such later Ohio State stars as Charles Maag, Edward Bruckner and Leonard Thom. His 11-year record as the Streaks' head man reads—87 victories, 20 defeats and 2 ties.

Meanwhile, Frank J. Prout, the progressive Sandusky superintendent of schools, moved to Bowling Green as president. In 1941 a reorganization in the athletic department called for a new head football coach. Whittaker was induced to leave the fine Sandusky setup and take over the Falcons.

In his initial season, the Falcons chalked up one of the best records in the state with seven victories against one defeat and a tie. At the end of the season Whittaker was nominated as an Ohio candidate for the "coach of the year" award.

During the next four war years Bob kept football alive at BG, piecing together teams composed of Navy V-12 men and civilians but always managed a winning season. In 1947 Whittaker led his gridders against such powerhouses as Miami, St. Bonaventure, Dayton and William and Mary to split a ten game slate for his poorest percentage mark since the 1940 season at Sandusky. But the Falcons bounced back into the limelight last fall as one of the nation's undefeated teams. The only mar on the record came in the season's finale when John Carroll deadlocked the fighting Falcons, 13-13, after they had romped over eight other foes. Whittaker's 8-year record as Falcon chief reads—45 wins, 20 losses and 4 ties for an overall coaching mark of 132 victories, 40 losses and 6 ties which is a respected .759 batting average.

Born in Greenville, Ohio, Bob attended high school at Lorain and Norwalk, taking part in four years of football. At Miami University he played halfback where his teammate was Paul Brown, the Cleveland Browns' coach and general manager. Whittaker also took part in track at the Oxford school, running the dashes and throwing the javelin to a college record.

He was graduated from Miami with a degree of bachelor of science in education. Bob took graduate work at Ohio State but received his master of arts from Bowling Green in 1942.

Bob is medium build weighing 164, the same as when in high school, has brown hair and blue eyes. He is married and has two daughters, Jean 18, a sophomore at the university, and Joan, 16, a high school senior.

With sailboating as his chief hobby, Bob maintains a summer home on Put-In-Bay Island in Lake Erie. He took top honors in the Inter-Lake regatta in 1940, 1941 and 1943. In the winter he enjoys skating and skiing. He also likes handball. The nickname "The Bear," originated by his 1941 squad, still carries.

The Style Of Play . . .

SYSTEM

Bob Whittaker's T-formation

GROUND ATTACK

The running attack, featuring quick opening line plays and line smashes, will be led by all-Ohio Jack Woodland and Pete Schmidt, last year's chief ground gainers. Speedsters, like Mel Augenstein, Paul Shartzter and Dick Pont, will supply the Whittaker attack with some potential open field runners.

AERIAL ATTACK

The forward pass offense will feature the throwing arms of Rodney Lash, Neil Pohlmann, Robert Puchalla and Rex Simonds, all capable heavers. On the receiving end will be all-Ohio six foot three Bob Schnelker who grabbed 14 aerials last season, five for scores.

KICKING GAME

The punting chore will fall with Rodney Lash for the most part this season. Sophomore Nick Nicholas might get to show his toe talent at times.

KICKOFFS

Hal Dunham, who averaged 51.7 yards in 47 times last year, is a cinch to handle this duty. Bob Mason will be in reserve for this job also.

EXTRA POINTS

Dunham, Mason and Jack Woodland will be called upon for this important work.

Prospects For '49 . . .

As last year, the success of the 1949 Falcon gridiron team will be determined largely by how well the reserve strength develops. Last year Whittaker was faced with this problem among the linemen; this season the question marks lie with the backs.

Nineteen lettermen from the undefeated '48 aggregation will return along with two lettermen from the '47 eleven. But only four of this group are backfield talent, making Whittaker look toward the 23 sophomore delegation for some ball carrying replacements.

The loss of such backs as all-Ohio Max Minnich, now with Los Angeles Rams, Jack Freitas, Howard Schaetzke, Russ Maples, Ed Simmons, Joe Lukac, Dick Reis and Don Espen left the Falcon mentor with veteran Jack Woodland at fullback; Pete Schmidt, a left halfback; and quarterbacks Rodney Lash and Neil Pehlmann. The first three will hold down the starting places along with Mel Augenstein, a 1947 reserve, who is back after laying out of school a year. Pohlmann will be pushed by sophomore Rex Simonds at quarter for relief duty while Bob Puchalla probably will be a pass specialist. The relief at halfback posts must come from the untested second year men. Paul Shartzter, Dick Pont and Norb Cowan look like the best of the group. At fullback Whittaker has the difficult problem of finding someone to spell all-Ohio Jack Woodland. Dan Hudak might fill the bill on defense but lumbering Vern Robilliard is the only offensive choice.

Vern Dunham, last year's fine end, will be missed at right end. The only other losses in the front wall were Don Dunham at left guard, who missed most of the '48 campaign with an injured leg, and John Sheldon, who split the right guard time with Leroy Silvani. The center post will go to veteran Willis Secor with greater reserve strength in Gene Aldridge and Ollie Glass, two fine sophomores. The same four tackles return, Ed Kuntz and Bob Mason on the left side and Gordon Ackerman and Don Verduin on the other. Dick Owens, another sophomore, will help the situation on the left side. Silvani will be a fixture at right guard and may even be pushed by Fred Snell, a reserve last fall, and Jack Lewis, one of '47 lettermen returnees. Clyde Schie will be hard to move at left guard and will have Jack Momany and Elmer Fink to back him up. On the flanks the lanky Bob Schnelker will be out to repeat his all-Ohio honors while Don Frail has moved into Dunham's post. Harry Coleman is an excellent choice to take over for Frail and Doug Mooney, also from the '47 squad monogram men, will lend some necessary help.

The Falcons hit the stiffest part of the 9-game slate in midseason with Toledo, Baldwin-Wallace, John Carroll and Kent. Injuries in the backfield, especially to one of the lettermen, would definitely hurt any Falcon chances of coming close to the '48 record. If the sophomores prove themselves early, Bob Whittaker will have another fine win and loss mark to add to his present winning ways at Bowling Green.

Press, Radio and Photographers' Info . . .

The press box in the Bowling Green stadium, although not elaborate or any too large, can adequately handle all working press, radio broadcasters and authorized scouts.

Because the space is limited, only press and radio men actually working the games are requested to make application for space. Other press and radio representatives desiring to see any or all of the Falcon games will be furnished complimentary reserved seats upon request. No women will be allowed in the press box during contests.

Applications for press and radio reservations should be made as early as possible. Early reservations will help you and us. These desiring wire service should specify same in reserving space and also notify the Western Union at your terminal. This makes a double check on the installation of this service and a lesser chance for a slip up. Reservations can be made by writing, wiring or telephoning Don Cunningham, Director of Athletic Publicity, Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio. Office phone is 5661 or at home residence 223½ Pearl St., phone 6973.

A complete game information sheet will be at your position when you arrive. Starting lineups will be announced in the box shortly before game time. Statistics will be available at the half and at the conclusion of the game. Other summary material will also be available after the contest. Spotters will be in the box to aid all needing this service.

Photographers desiring field passes should contact Mr. Cunningham in the same manner as the press. Dark room facilities will be available for those desiring such.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics hopes that all visiting newsmen and radio broadcasters will feel at home when covering our contests. We stand ready to give you the best possible service while you are here, and should you have suggestions as to how we can improve this service, we will welcome the opportunity for you to pass these thoughts on to us.

The Athletic Program . . .

Football is one of nine sports in which Bowling Green teams participate on an intercollegiate level.

The basketball team is annually one of the top aggregations in the nation. Under the direction of Harold Anderson, the 1948-49 quintet was a semi-finalist in the National Invitational tournament, an event in which they have taken part five of the past six years. They open a rugged 30-game slate in December playing in New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Chicago besides 13 home contests.

The swimming team, coached by Sam Cooper, has won the all-Ohio college invitational relays for the past three years in addition to building a fine dual meet record. Michigan State, Cincinnati and Iowa State are some of the foes.

Graduate assistant Donald Thayer will continue the fine work in wrestling accomplished by Bob Leiman during the past two years. Kent, Waynesburg, Case, Edinboro and Ohio State are again on the 1949-50 slate.

Dave Matthews handles the track and cross country teams. The former Michigan track star has hopes of developing a fine cross country squad this fall with several promising sophomores on hand.

Besides track, baseball, golf and tennis appear on the spring program. Warren Steller, aided by ex-New York Giant pitcher Roy Lee, handles the baseball squad which meets Kent State, Wayne, Ohio Wesleyan, Toledo and Michigan Normal among others every season.

Only Michigan Normal and Baldwin-Wallace were able to down the track squad last spring in Matthews' first tenure as track mentor. A rugged schedule is being planned for the 1950 campaign.

Don Cunningham handles the golfers who took four wins in eleven tests last spring with an inexperienced outfit. Clyde Parker's tennis team found Wayne, Michigan Normal and Kenyon to be court demons in winning three of eleven matches.

The win and loss record of all sports during the 1948-49 school year are as follows:

Football	8	0	1	.944
Cross Country	4	4	0	.500
Basketball	24	7	0	.774
Swimming	8	3	0	.727
