THE UNIVERSITY

Bowling Green State University is located in northwestern Ohio, 23 miles south of Toledo and 15 miles south of the Ohio Turnpike. Situated at the northeast edge of the city of Bowling Green, the university campus contains approximately 900 acres, 60 permanent buildings, with more under construction, and all the modern equipment and facilities needed for conducting an accredited university program.

The enrollment at the beginning of the 1964-65 academic year was 10,535, including branches, with students from 81 of Ohio's counties, 48 of the states and the District of Columbia plus 31 foreign countries.

THE CAMPUS

Bowling Green's campus includes a 14,000-seat football stadium, a 5,700-seat basketball arena, a nine-hole golf course, 19 tennis courts, CAA-approved airport with surfaced runways, speech and hearing clinic, reading center, a library with volumes in excess of 240,000, a chapel and other educational facilities.

Eighteen fraternities and 12 sororities are located on campus along with eight residence centers that accommodate most of the university's students.

Bowling Green is expanding its plant to provide the best possible environment for university life and to meet the needs of an increasing enrollment. Since 1955, 16 buildings, Rogers Quadrangle, Alice Prout Residence Hall, Hall of Music, Founders Quadrangle, University Union, Home Economics Building, South Hall, Overman Hall, Fine Arts Building, Memorial Hall, Conklin Quadrangle, Administration Building, Commons Dining Center, Kohl Hall addition, McDonald Quadrangle and Harshman Quadrangle have been completed.

FUTURE PLANS

Buildings to be completed in the near future include a new university library, three units of a six-phase science research complex, a 1,400-student residence center, a student health center, a television production studio, student services building and an athletic area, including a stadium and ice arena.

The first classes started at Bowling Green in 1914 with a faculty of 21 and an enrollment of 304. No significant expansion came until 1929 when Ohio's General Assembly renamed the school Bowling Green State College and provided funds for the development of a liberal arts college offering professional and pre-professional training. The school was renamed Bowling Green State University in 1935 as other undergraduate schools and the graduate school were added.

Today, the university is composed of three undergraduate colleges, College of Liberal Arts, College of Education and College of Business Administration, along with the Graduate School that offers master's degrees in five fields plus a Doctor of Philosophy degree.

The four-year undergraduate programs lead to Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Bachelor of Science in Education, Bachelor of Science in Journalism and Bachelor of Music degrees.

Just how well Bowling Green State University's football squad does in 1965 could depend on a pair of giant fullbacks, veteran Stew Williams and sophomore Tom Luettkke.

New head coach Bob Gibson is working with 21 lettermen from the 1964 team that finished with a 9-1 overall record and took the Mid-American Conference crown with a 5-1 slate. However, 14 of the veterans are linemen while four of the returning backs were defensive specialists in '64.

For this reason, Gibson is giving plenty of thought to using Williams and Luettkke, a pair of 240 pounders, in the same backfield. Williams was an All Mid-American Conference selection last season as he gained 609 yards in 109 carries for a 5.6 average. Luettkke was all but unstoppable with the 1964 frosh as he gained 569 yards in 89 carries for a 6.4 mark.

Last year, the line presented most of the problems for Bowling Green's coaching staff but the shoe is on the other foot this season. Aside from Williams, the other veteran offensive backs are halfback Bob Pratt, who gained 175 yards in 1964, and quarterback Dwight Wallace, who served as Jerry Ward's understudy last season.

However, the backfield problems may not be as deep as they seem at first glance with the University of Detroit transfer student Dick Waring and rapidly improving Ray Fielitz set for plenty of quarterbacking along with Wallace. At halfback, Mike Weger, who lettered as a defensive specialist in '64, will get an offensive shot this year. Weger stands 6-2 and weighs 190.

With two veterans at every line position, the problems there for Gibson and his staff are few and far between. According to the preseason depth chart the starting line of ends Jamie Rivers and John Jennings, tackles Jerry Jones and Bill Earhart, guards John Sohn and Jim Violet plus center Heath Wingate, averages over 220 pounds.

The squad breakdown shows 15 seniors, 23 juniors and 30 sophomores. The 21 letter winners figure to get their help from 17 1964 varsity reserves and 23 '64 frosh award winners plus transfer students.

THE ENDS

(4 lettermen—2 seniors, 3 juniors, 5 sophomores)

The problems at the end positions should prove to be just minor with four veterans and some outstanding sophomores at the slots. The best of the ends figure to be All Mid-American selection Jamie Rivers (210) and John Jennings (215), both two-way performers. The other two veterans are offensive specialist Paul Rolf (180) and defensive ace Al McQuigg (200). Rivers wrapped in 10 passes for 150 yards in 1964 while Rolf got four for 109 yards. Bob Heider (195), a 1964 varsity reserve, plus sophomores Chet Boyer (210), Roger Schmidt (215) and Dave Seiter (235) also figure high in 1965's plans.

THE TACKLES

(4 lettermen—4 seniors, 4 juniors, 2 sophomores)

Four experienced senior tackles along with a rapidly improving junior and a good sophomore should have little trouble handling things at this position in 1965. The veterans are Jerry Jones (270), All-MAC choice last year, tri-captain Bill Earhart (225), Tony Fire (235) and Ed Helminger (225). Jones and Earhart are both two-way men while Fire and Helminger stay mostly with the defensive side of things. Junior Henry Orr (220) was named as the Falcons' Most Improved Player during the spring drills. He figures to help the '65 squad as does sophomore Ernie George (240), who is an offensive performer.

THE GUARDS

(4 lettermen—3 seniors, 4 juniors, 4 sophomores)

The guard situation is the same as the other line positions, plenty of experience and talent. The four veterans, John Sohn (210), Jim Violet (215), Jim Porowski (215) and Bruce Burdick (225) were either starters or top reserves in 1964. Sohn, Violet and Burdick are all being groomed to go both ways this season while Porowski has the inside track for the first string middle guard post. A pair of '64 reserves, Frank Harpold (225) and Jim Grant (215) are also likely to see plenty of action.

THE CENTERS

(2 lettermen—0 seniors, 3 juniors, 4 sophomores)

Bowling Green's coaching staff won't lose any sleep over the centers with a pair of veterans, Heath Wingate (225) and Joe Siesel (220) handling things. Wingate, a junior, was an All-MAC choice last year at offensive center. Siesel is considered an outstanding backup man for Wingate but will probably spend most of his time as one of the Falcons' first string linebackers. Siesel was slowed by injuries for most of the '64 season. The third string center is John Shartle (215) who was switched from guard to center during spring drills and will play mostly on defense.

THE QUARTERBACKS

(1 lettermen—1 senior, 3 juniors, 2 sophomores)

Leading the quarterbacking parade is veteran Dwight Wallace (170), who is labeled as a strong runner and fair passer. He ran for 81 yards in '64 and passed for 135, completing seven of 17 aeriels. However, he is followed very closely by three juniors, Dick Waring (200), a transfer student from the University of Detroit, Ray Fielitz (195), who is the best passer on the team, and Russ Jacques (170), who was a 1964 reserve but missed spring drills when he made BG's baseball pitching staff. The other quarterback of note is sophomore defensive specialist Bill Becker (175).

THE HALFBACKS

(4 lettermen—2 seniors, 5 juniors, 9 sophomores)

The offensive talent at halfback is very thin with veteran Bob Pratt (190) being the only seasoned performer. Pratt, a real speedster, gained 175 yards last year. However, Bowling Green's two starting 1964 defensive halfbacks, Dick Wagoner (190) and Mike Weger (190) plus safetyman Joe Souliere (175) are also veteran performers at this spot. Wagoner, Weger and Souliere will get shots at offense this year. Another player who could get the job done at offensive halfback is Dave Cranmer (195), who was with the varsity in 1964 but didnt appear in any contests.

THE FULLBACKS

(2 lettermen—3 seniors, 1 junior, 4 sophomores)

Bowling Green's fullback situation was never better. Offensive charger Stew Williams (240) not only lettered in 1964 but was named to the All-MAC squad. The other veteran is Tom O'Leary (185) who earned his '64 letter as a linebacker. The other outstanding man at fullback is sophomore Tom Luettkke (240), who ran over just about everything with last year's freshman squad. Williams gained 609 yards in '64 while Luettkke was piling up 569.

THE TRI-CAPTAINS

Seniors Bill Earhart, Jim Violet and Dwight Wallace were named as Bowling Green State University's tri-captains for the 1965 season. All three men helped the 1964 Falcons stack up a 9-1 record and win the Mid-American Conference championship.

Earhart, a big tackle who stands 6-3 and weighs 225, has been a regular with the Falcons for the past two seasons. He is slated to see most of his action with the offensive squad this year. Earhart developed quickly last year and during this season's spring drills and is now considered an excellent pro prospect.

Violet, a guard who stands 6-0 and weighs 215, came from fourth string to win Bowling Green's Most Improved Player award during the 1964 spring drills. He then stepped into a starting role, both offensively and defensively, last season. He is the brother of former BG guard Bill Violet, who also captained the Falcons.

Wallace, served as Jerry Ward's understudy last season and, is now battling for the starting berth in 1965. He is a fine running quarterback who picked up 81 yards on the ground in 16 attempts in 1964. He also completed seven of 17 passes for 135 yards with two going for touchdowns. Wallace, who stands 6-0 and weighs 170, also scored two TDs himself.

THE COACHES

Head Coach Bob Gibson

The 1965 football season should prove to be quite a challenge for Bowling Green State University's new head football coach, Robert Gibson, as he steps into the position vacated by the "winningest coach in the nation", Doyt Perry.

In 10 seasons as Bowling Green's coach, Perry ran up a phenomenal record as he finished with a slate of 77-10-5 for a percentage of .864. In the Mid-American Conference, Perry's squads won five league titles and finished second three other years.

Perry stepped out of the coaching ranks after the 1964 season when he was named as Bowling Green's athletic director. Gibson then became the Falcons' 10th head football coach.

However, Gibson is far from being a stranger to Bowling Green's system as he served as the university's line coach for the past nine years. Gibson turned in an excellent job with Bowling Green's offensive linemen as he developed 17 All Mid-American Conference tackles and guards.

The list of standouts Gibson helped develop include Bob Reynolds, Ken Russell and Bob Zimpfer. Reynolds, is currently holding down a first string offensive tackle spot with the St. Louis Cardinals in the National Football League while Russell played three years with the Detroit Lions before injuries forced him to retire. All three men made the All-Conference listings for two years.

Perry credited Gibson with planning and executing Bowling Green's 1964 running attack that enabled the Falcons to finish second in the nation in rushing with a 239.8 yard average per game.

Regarding Gibson, Perry said, "he is one of the finest coaches I have known. Bob and his excellent staff will provide Bowling Green's students and followers interesting and winning teams. I am happy that he accepted the challenge of Bowling Green's head coaching post and I wish him the best of luck."

Gibson came to Bowling Green in February of 1956 after guiding East Liverpool to an unbeaten and untied 1955 campaign. The Potters racked up 55 touchdowns during the '55 year. He served at East Liverpool for three years.

Bowling Green's head coach is a 1950 graduate of Youngstown University where he won four letters as the Penguin's quarterback. Gibson was also a regular on the basketball and baseball squads. He graduated from Youngstown Woodrow Wilson High School in 1945 where he starred in football and basketball.

Before entering Youngstown University, Gibson served 18 months in the navy. He holds a master's degree in health and physical education from Bowling Green.

Gibson is married and has three sons, Douglas, 13, Richard 12 and David, 8.

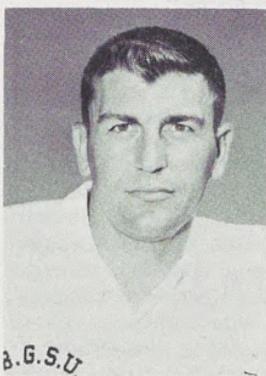

THE ASSISTANT COACHES

ROBERT DUDLEY, backfield coach

As the Falcons' backfield coach, he has produced some outstanding athletes including pros Bernie Casey and Don Lisbon . . . He is currently working with the man who could be the best of them all, Stew Williams . . . He also handles the press box phones during the games and takes care of the offensive statistical duties . . . Dudley came to Bowling Green in 1955 after two years as head coach at Columbus Grandview where he was also that school's basketball coach for six seasons . . . He graduated from Columbus North High School in 1941 then enrolled at Capital University where he starred in football, basketball and baseball . . . The Korean War interrupted Ruehl's education as he served with the Marines at Camp LeJunc . . . He returned to Ohio State in 1952 and won a varsity letter as a center. A leg injury forced him out of the lineup in 1953 . . . Ruehl was serving as a student assistant at OSU in 1954 when Doyt Perry invited him to Bowling Green . . . He gained his MA degree at BG in 1956 . . . Ruehl is married and has three sons and a daughter.

TOM KISSELLE, end coach

Kisselle, an All Mid-American Conference end at Bowling Green during the 1953-55 era was named as the Falcons' end coach after Bill Mallory left BG's staff this year to join Carmen Cozza at Yale . . . DON NEHLEN, interior line coach

Nehlen, who quarterbacked the Falcons from 1955 to 1957 and still has his name in BG's record book, is starting his first year on Bowling Green's coaching Staff . . . Nehlen has been in the coaching ranks for seven years and has had nothing but success . . . After graduating from Bowling Green, he took a job at Mansfield Senior High as a backfield coach . . . The following year, he took the head coaching position at Canton South . . . In four seasons, his teams posted a 24-12-2 slate and won two titles plus tying for another in the Stark County Class AA League . . . The 1963 year found Nehlen at the University of Cincinnati as backfield coach . . . The Bearcats won the Missouri Valley Conference crown and three of his backs signed professional contracts . . . Then last year, he led Canton McKinley's Bulldogs to a 9-1 mark and the No. 2 ranking in the state . . . In his last 27 games as a head coach, his teams won 24 . . . Nehlen is a graduate of Canton Lincoln High . . . He is married and has two children.

RICHARD YOUNG, freshman coach

Young is now starting his sixth season on Bowling Green's staff as freshman coach . . . He has directed the young Falcons to an outstanding 20-4 record in five years . . . Last season, he ran up his worst mark as BG's frosh finished at 3-2 . . . In 1963, Young went undefeated with a 5-0 mark. Kent, Detroit, Toledo, Western Michigan and Ohio Northern were defeated . . . MIAMI—The Redskins are the only team on Bowling Green's schedule that holds the series edge over the Falcons . . . these two schools have met on the football field 22 times with the series reading 5-15-2 in Miami's favor . . . Doyt Perry's record stood at only 3-5-2 against the Redskins . . . Bo Schembechler is in his third season with a record of 11-6-3 . . . Miami sagged in the second half of the '64 year, losing three of five games to finish the season with a 6-3-1 slate . . . the big win: 28-27 over Northwestern . . . BG marked up a 21-18 victory in '64 . . . the Redskins will be without quarterback Ernie Kellermann this year . . . Redskin coach Jack Hecker won All-Conference honors at BG in 1954 and 1955 as an end.

MARSHALL—The Thundering Herd won the first game of the Marshall-BG series in 1954 but then they haven't seen the light of day for 10 straight times . . . the Falcons pushed their series advantage to 10-1 last year with a 28-0 win over a fine Marshall squad that ended the season with a 7-3 record . . . Charlie Snyder, the second oldest coach in the conference from a service standout, has a 21-35-3 record with the Herd . . . Marshall started the '64 year with two straight defeats but then rebounded to win five straight before falling to BG . . . last year Marshall finished tied for second in the MAC for its highest finish ever.

OHIO UNIVERSITY—Despite the fact that Ohio's '64 team was loaded with outstanding linemen, the Bobcats finished with only a 5-4-1 record . . . this left coach Bill Hess' lifetime mark at 46-20-2 . . . the series mark between the two schools is very close, 9-7-1 in BG's favor . . . Ohio has blanked Bowling Green the last two years by scores of 16-0 and 21-0 . . . in 1961 and 1962, the Falcons came out on top with 7-6 margins . . . OU won four straight from 1951-'54 before BG won four and tied one from '55-'59 . . . in the last six years, either Ohio or Bowling Green has nailed the MAC crown . . . BG has won four, Ohio two . . . Hess is in his eighth year as Bobcat coach.

FALCON FORMATIONS

OFFENSE—Bowling Green State University is a balanced line team that runs several variations off the straight-T formation. Wingbacks, slotbacks, some double wingback and pro setups as well as the regular T will all be part of the Falcon attack in 1965.

DEFENSE—Always a successful defensive team, the 1965 Bowling Green unit will again operate out of the basic 5-4-2 Oklahoma formation. Depending on the situation, the Falcons sometimes shift into a four and six-man lines or a 6-2-2-1 setup.
